

Name	Total rating points	Average rating points	Ranking (1 is high)	Standard Deviation
Wagshalls	111.5	7.96	4.07	3.1
Aaron's best beef	110.5	7.89	2.93	2.1
Ballpark Deli Style	104	7.43	4.14	2.9
Oscar Mayer beef	96	6.86	5.79	2.9
Nathans	93.5	6.68	6.36	2.6
Shor harbor beef franks	90.5	6.46	6.00	3.8
Hebrew national	87	6.21	5.85	2.3
Sabret Skinless beef	87	6.21	6.57	2.2
Orioles Esskay Beef Franks	82	5.86	7.00	3.4
Abeles and Heyman	77.5	5.54	7.50	3.1
Applegate Natural uncured beef	56.5	4.04	9.21	1.9

Total rating points= this is the sum of all the scores we gave to the hot dogs

Average rating points = this is the previous column divided by 14 which was the total number of raters

Ranking = this is the average where we ranked dogs from best (1) to worst (11)

Standard Deviation = this is the standard deviation of the rankings that we all assigned. Standard deviation measures the amount of agreement that we had with each other, where a low number shows our rankings were generally in agreement, and a high number shows we disagreed. Thus the dog we most completely agreed on was Applegate where there was near universal agreement (1.9 standard deviation) that this was a terrible dog. Similarly, there was a lot of agreement (SD=2.1) that Aaron's was an excellent dog, although much less agreement (SD =3.1) that Wagshalls was excellent.

Note that when we were forced to rank the dogs from best to worst, Aaron's got the best scores. However, Wagshalls got a slightly higher rating. This seeming disparity means that there were a few more people giving Wagshalls an excellent rating, but there were also a bunch of people giving it a mediocre rating, when compared to Aaron's.

Comments

good but salty, salty, good taste, crunchy lots of flavor, thicker and tastes different than others but tasty, fat juicy and crunchy combo pretty oak color good spice, salty, crispy skin, milk, skin to thick, tasted well, will hold out for better, great taste and texture, my favorite, good crunch classic nice texture not a lot of flavor, awesome, just bad, salty, salty but flavorful, soft and salty, like ones I ate in nice flavor, good dog but no so-so aftertaste, sort of sweet flavor, 11 better than 11A, salty, not a kosher dog for good flavor, not the best texture, no real taste very bland, this is a dog, no crunch smoked, herbal taste, like the pop when biting into the skin, too salty, salty, just not there for me, mild crunch not much taste, skin a good flavor but too salty, too spicy, has a sweet taste, I bit on a seed or something, bland too salty, saltier than others, now we are talking, crunchy but greasy too thin for bun, odd texture, too salty, very mild good kosher dog, 6 better than 6A, crunchy flavorful, could use something more, good crunch salty aftertaste too salty, too mild, great stadium frank, bland taste and mushy texture, not very tasty, crab bait not crunch or no taste, didn't like the spice, tasty nice spice, did not like, smoky, tasteless, excellent, meaty flavor different not even 7-11 suitable, useless not just bad, funny tasting, too smoky flavor, this is a cat, crab bait no crunch or